

Family #37Family Information*Family Story (please do not include names for privacy)

Our family has been struggling with mental illness with my oldest son. I constantly have to miss work due to doctors appointments. Or school pick ups because he's done something at school. We have been going back and fourth to different facilities/doctors to find help. This will truly be appreciated because I'm at the point where I'm doing catch up due to being out so much.
